DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in response to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-12, drawn to methods of diagnosis lung damage by screening for modulation of pulmonary surfactant levels in a body fluid, the first appearing technical feature.

Group II, claim(s) 13-21, drawn to methods of diagnosis of lung damage by screening for modulation of pulmonary surfactant ratios in a body fluid.

Group III, claim(s) 22-27 and 30-35, drawn to methods of predisposition to developing sever lung damage measuring in part modulation of pulmonary surfactant levels in a body fluid.

Group IV, claim(s) 28-29, drawn to methods of predisposition to developing sever lung damage measuring in part modulation ratios of pulmonary surfactant levels in a body fluid.

Group V, claim 36, drawn to a kit for screening a body fluid sample.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the first appearing technical feature is not "special" within the meaning of PCT Rule 13.2 because it does not define a novel feature over the prior art as evidenced by any one of the X references cited in the International Preliminary Examination Report. These X references teach the correlation of levels of pulmonary surfactant with lung damage. As such, the methods and Kits of Groups I-V are not related by a single general inventive concept because the corresponding technical feature was clearly established and known in the prior art and does not define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions makes over the prior art. The first appearing technical feature is therefore not "special" within the meaning of
